

2022 Bob Maxwell Peace Builder Award

The IJPC Bob Maxwell Peace Builder Award was established in 2017 in honor of Robert "Bob" Maxwell who passed away in 2016 and who was a steadfast supporter of the work of IJPC. The Bob Maxwell Peace Builder Award recipients are distinguished by giving public witness to justice issues to bring about peace. They have contributed to building understanding, collaboration, and trust in Greater Cincinnati, while holding the belief that peace is possible.

Previous Award Winners:

Bonnie Neumeier - 2017

Christina Brown - 2018

S. Monica McGloin, OP - 2019

Rev. Nelson Pierce Jr. - 2020

Kristen Barker - 2021

We will be accepting nominations until August 26, 2022.

Criteria:

*The person under consideration does not need to meet each of these criteria, rather, the majority of them.

- Serves as an example to others through a commitment to Social Justice
- Has made a significant contribution to the promotion of peace in Greater Cincinnati and/or beyond
- Gives public witness to justice issues and with compassion
- Believes peace is possible
- Has contributed to peaceful resolution of a dispute and/or increased peace, collaboration, and trust
- Mindful that the work of peace comes from a place of peace not anger
- Talents offered include educating, advocating and engaging others for peace
- Willing to speak out against injustice with words and actions

To nominate someone, fill out this Google Form by August 26, 2022:

<https://forms.gle/DubSYjixE72aLELz9>